

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Chilian Junta's army and navy expenses amounted to $150,000.

Francisco C. Concha, one of Balmaceda's Ministers of Justice, was shot while trying to escape through the Cordillera Pass, Chile.

Fire at Minneapolis yesterday destroyed the five-story building occupied by the North Star Book and Shoe Company; loss $350,000.

In an exchange of shots near Annapolis between the crew of a Maryland oyster police boat and the crew of a dredger said to have been violating the oyster law, George Smith, hailing from New York, was killed.

The trial of the Archbishop of Aix on the charge of insulting the French minister in connection with the conduct of the French pilgrims in Rome, took place in Paris yesterday, and the Archbishop was convicted and fined 3,000 francs.

S. S. Moore & Co., of Elizabeth, N. J., were yesterday awarded the contract for the construction and delivery at Portsmouth, Va., of the screw steamer Maple, for the Fifth Lighthouse district, their bid being $81,800.

The Dupont Brothers' powder mills at Summerville, Pa., formerly owned by J. S. Miller, were blown up Monday night, killing Jas. Wade, who was tapping the chasers contrary to instructions. The buildings are a complete wreck.

The New York Legislature, as stated yesterday, will be democratic in both branches. The Senate will stand: Democrats 16, Republicans 15, independent (Dr. Edwards) 1. The casting vote of the Lieutenant Governor will give the organization of the Senate to the democrats. Dr. Edwards should vote with the republicans, which is not certain. The Assembly is expected to contain 67 democrats to 31 republicans. Gov. Bill said yesterday: "They know they are beaten and that we have the Legislature, and more than that, we will have it for a long time to come."

The Earthquake in Japan.

Additional details of the earthquake in Japan on October 28, state that up and down trains on the Tokaido Railway were just meeting at Gifu Station, the centre of the disturbance, when the shock first occurred.

The shock was accompanied by a rumbling sound and was violent. The people on the trains slipped from their seats, and for a moment thought that a collision had occurred. On looking out of the windows, however, they beheld the station in ruins, and the water in a neighboring pond dashing violently from side to side. The rumbling sound and the movement continued, and cracks from two to three feet wide were observed opening and closing in all directions, volcanic mud and ashes being thrown from some of them.

The town of Kano was found to be wholly in ruins, not a house remaining standing. Kasamatsu suffered a like fate, every dwelling being a mass of debris.

The inhabitants of Gifu say that the first sensation was that the houses were being raised and then suddenly lowered two or three feet. In fact, there was a marked subsidence in the earth's surface for a considerable area about Gifu, which indicates that the latter town was the centre of the disturbance. Very soon after the houses were thrown down, and while hundreds of people were buried in the debris, flames burst from the ruins of the silk factory, and in a short time spread to such an extent that the citizens were compelled to desert in their work of rescue, and by 8 o'clock the evening almost every part of the town of Gifu was wrapped in flames.

The potteries in the Prefectures of Owari and Mino, the great centres of porcelain manufacture in Japan, and those at Seto and other towns, were almost entirely destroyed, and it is reported that there is no prospect of resuming their industry this year.

The Gobo Temple, belonging to the Shin sect Buddhist, was crowded with worshippers when it fell, burying at least 50 people. The ruins took fire, and the shrieking victims were consumed before the eyes of the horrified onlookers. A slight shock was felt at Negerie on the night of Sunday, October 25. On Wednesday morning, while forty Christians were assembled in one of the buildings of the Methodist School the structure began to totter, and the worshippers fled. One Christian and his wife were killed and two Japanese were fatally injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Dyke, missionaries, and one other white person were dangerously hurt.

The loss of life in the three towns which go to make up the city of Nagoya is estimated at from 750 to 1,000. Up to the morning of Friday, October 30, 368 distinct shocks were reported as following that of Wednesday.

A lake 600 yards long and 60 yards wide was formed at the foot of Hukusima Mountain, in the Gifu Prefecture, and great cracks were formed in the ground beside the hills in Gifu.

In some parts of the town of Gifu boiling mud spouted from the fissures for more than two hours.

Out of 700 temples in the Gifu Prefecture more than one-third were totally destroyed. The top of the sacred Mountain of Fushima was sent sailing for a distance of 1200 feet in width and 600 feet in depth.

Over 3,000 persons in the Gifu Prefecture alone have applied for assistance.

The B. & E. R. "The Wall Street Journal" says: "We understand that the directors have informally discussed the question of a dividend on the preferred stock, and have reached the conclusion that inasmuch as the Richmond and Danville Company has so large a floating debt, they do not consider it the part of wisdom to pay a dividend on the preferred stock at this time. Formal action has not been taken on the matter, and this informal action may be reversed at a formal meeting of the directors. It is a current rumor that some of the old Richmond and Danville interests are soliciting proxies for the next meeting of Richmond Terminal, but we cannot learn that this is true."

A rumor reached Knoxville, Tenn., yesterday, of a snow-storm in the Chilhowee mountains south of Knoxville, and that a wagon train of immigrants, well-armed, consisting of six wagons and thirty-three persons, all went into camp when the storm began, except a farmer named George Akers, who, with his family, went on up the mountains. It is supposed they lost their way and rolled into the river or a ravine and were frozen to death.

Henry Berkle, a German tailor, was arrested in Richmond yesterday for bigamy. His wife came to Richmond from Germany to claim her husband from whom she had been separated for ten years and found him living with another wife. It is said that another wife of Berkle's died a few years ago.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

Foreign News.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The grand ducal theatre at Odenburg caught fire last night and was completely destroyed.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Joseph Ashforth, formerly secretary and treasurer of the Royal Arcanum building and loan association of Brooklyn, N. Y., who was arrested at Liverpool on the 19th on the charge of embezzling nearly $200,000 from the association, was arraigned to-day. The hearing was on the request of the United States Government for his extradition. Ashforth said that he was not guilty, and requested that he be remanded in order to enable his counsel to peruse the American extradition papers, which had just arrived. The court granted the prisoner's request.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Charles Grande, alias a dozen other names, who has been on trial in this city on charges of blackmailing was to-day found guilty and sentenced to twenty years penal servitude. Grande had been pursuing his nefarious practices for a long time past and he numbers among his victims several titled ladies, threatening them with his vengeance unless they complied with his demands for money. To one of them he wrote that if she did not pay him a certain sum of money he would blow her to atoms.

From Brazil.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Very few dispatches are being received here from Brazil. The indications are that everything is returning to a normal condition, that the new government is in sympathy with the dominant political party, and that the mandates of the constitution will resume their sway. The Exchange Telegraph Co. publishes a private dispatch from Para to-day. According to this, the abdication of Fonseca and his succession by Peixoto as President is well received in that city and State. This change in the central government will probably prove entirely satisfactory to the people of Para and there is no present likelihood that peace will be disturbed.

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 25.—President Peixoto issued a manifesto to-day, which is received with general satisfaction. In this he renounces and abandons the arbitrary authority assumed by Da Fonseca and declares that the legal order of affairs is re-established. The dissolution of Congress decreed by Da Fonseca is annulled, and the state of siege in the federal district has been raised.

The manifesto summons Congress to assemble on December 18 and resume its functions.

An Astronomical Discovery.

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—Prof. S. C. Chandler read before the Boston scientific society last evening an analysis of observations showing that the parallaxes of latitude which were commonly supposed to be fixed lines are really mutable. Prof. Chandler's discovery is that the pole of the earth revolves about a circumference with about 30 feet radius, in 427 days. This discovery, it is claimed, accounts for many of the discrepancies in astronomical observations which have been bothering astronomers for nearly two hundred years.

Accident on the C. & O. Railway. CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 25.—While a freight train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railway was passing up one of the approaches to the bridge last night a truck of one of the cars broke and the train plunged into the ditch below, carrying away 30 feet of the approach. The damage is estimated at $30,000. No person was injured.

The National Republican Committee. The National Republican Committee closed up its work at Washington yesterday and adjourned sine die. It issued a call to republicans regarding the rules to be observed in selecting delegates to the National Convention, and left to the executive committee all arrangements for the convention at Minneapolis. The selection of Minneapolis as the place of the convention is not regarded as a victory for any of those now mentioned as candidates for the presidential nomination. The committee heard a succinct statement from each member of the committee of the condition of the party in the various States, and its needs and prospects.

Ex-Governor Pinchback, of Louisiana, varied the sameness of the addresses by indulging in a fierce attack upon the white republicans of the South, whom he held to be responsible for the lack of vitality of the party in that section of the country, and whom he charged with suppressing the negro vote for fear of race issues. He held that their pusillanimous policy had resulted in untold party losses, and maintained that a few vigorous contests and manifestations of their rightful power by the southern negroes would have a wholesome political effect and redeem southern States from democracy.

Getting Ready for the Grand Lodge. The Grand Lodge of Masons will begin its annual meeting on Tuesday, December 15. It will be in session about three days. As it meets in the new temple the attendance will be unusually large. Grand Steward Kraus is arranging to seat about 1,200 delegates and other visitors at the supper tables. The room in which the Grand Lodge will assemble is just about twice as large as the assembly-room at St. Alban's Hall. As it is designed for public uses as well as Masonic, the auditorium is provided with a stage and spectators galleries. It is better ventilated than St. Alban's Hall. The Grand Master, J. Howard Way, of Staunton, and other grand officers will be selected for another term.—Richmond State.

The sheriff of Duluth yesterday took charge of the Tribune of that city.

From Brazil.

Dispatches come freely now to London from Rio Janeiro, the censorship having been removed. The resignation of Marshal da Fonseca was a great relief and has proved a solution of the complications which were gathering around the new republic. Fonseca is reported to be seriously ill. Acting President Peixoto and the provisional cabinet by which he is surrounded will now proceed to restore the operation of the constitution and laws. The general elections will be held on Dec. 15. The legislature assembled at the earliest possible moment, and unity and harmony between the provinces is re-established. The change has brought peace and tranquility to Rio Grande do Sul, but the provisional government of that State still holds an attitude of armed attention, awaiting the proceedings of the new government at Rio, in which implicit confidence is not yet placed by the republicans. It being regarded as a creation of the ex-President da Fonseca, and not to be trusted until it is tried.

A dispatch from Buenos Ayres says: "The news of the abdication of Marshal da Fonseca was received in Rio Grande do Sul with general satisfaction and has opened an end to the revolutionary movement in that State. The obstructions placed in the Rio Grande have been removed and the river opened to commerce. The insurgent troops are disbanded."

A Rio Janeiro dispatch says: "Except Para, which remains silent, all the provinces concur in the dismissal of Marshal da Fonseca. Congress will probably ignore the recent events. A new cabinet has been formed as follows: Senator Alves, finance; Senator Faria, husbandry; Senator Pereira, justice; Senator Oliveira, war; Senator Mello, marine; Senator Pailha, foreign affairs." Another report gives Senator Semeao the war portfolio.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

New York, Nov. 25.—The stock market opened this morning with a moderate degree of animation, and first prices were in most cases small fractions better than last night's figures. The general list displayed a strong tendency toward further advances in the early dealings. In the later transactions a portion of these advances were lost, when the general list, as a rule, retired to the neighborhood of first prices. At 11 o'clock the market was quiet and barely steady at insignificant changes from the opening figures.

Flour is quiet, with a fair demand, well distributed as to grade. The wheat market is steady at the recent decline; sales show about the usual range, on account of the mixed condition of the offerings, say from 70 for tail ends up to 102 for choice longberry samples. Corn is weak and we mark down prices; the old crop has been about exhausted, and quotations are merely nominal—56a 3/4; new brings from 53 to 57. Bye 75a 5/8.
